

Psych eval after child's death

According to KGBT4 news, a "Plano woman who admits severing her baby's arms must have a mental health evaluation..."

(<http://www.team4news.com/Global/story.asp?S=2692240> (
<http://www.team4news.com/Global/story.asp?S=2692240> ) )

Their story goes on to report that Dena Schlosser, a 35-year-old woman "faces a capital murder charge. ... She remains jailed and didn't attend.

A judge set a January 21st deadline for a mental health expert to evaluate Schlosser and report on her competency. The investigation involves the November 22nd death of her ten-month-old daughter, Margaret. Defense attorney David Haynes thinks Schlosser was guided by a Bible passage in which Jesus refers to cutting off limbs to cast away sin. ... he believes Schlosser was mentally ill at the time of the killing... "