I am very proud and pleased to have been elected President of GAP. It is a singular honor and I am enthusiastic about the continual growth and modernization of our organization. GAP has a noble history and next year we will celebrate our 60th Anniversary. There are good reasons to celebrate. I want to thank Carol Nadelson for outstanding leadership during her years as President and Joe Westermeyer who served so admirably as Secretary for six years. I also look forward to continuing to work with Dave Baron as Treasurer, Lois Flaherty as President-Elect and Jay Scully as Secretary. The Board of Directors welcomes new members, Joan Lang and William Sledge.

During the last several years we have taken some important steps towards change. The most dramatic change has been the establishment of our website and the private areas in which our committees can continue to work in between meetings. GAP has truly responded well and several committees are ahead of the curve in the use of modern technology as part of our entrance into the 21st century.

We have also established five new committees which have brought new people into the organization which has played a large role in our revitalization. I am still struggling to develop four more committees, one of which – consultation/liaison/psychosomatics, is almost resolved. However, we still need chairperson candidates for genetics, neuroscience, and neuroimaging. This has been difficult because those psychiatrists spend a great deal of time in their laboratories and in organizations narrowly dedicated to their special field of experience. I am appealing to all members to think about colleagues and friends who might be brought into GAP (or who are already members) who would be able to help us.

I would like to be sure that the processes in GAP are open and transparent and that all members feel good about the organization. We have been using an important descriptor for GAP – “think tank.” I believe that we can become better known and have our opinion sought after if we all see GAP as a group of think tanks rather than a writing club. Again, let me say how grateful I am to be your President. I will do my best.

Sincerely yours,

Paul Jay Fink, MD

FELLOWSHIP COMMITTEE – SPRING 2005

We welcomed 15 new fellows this meeting. They immediately got to work in their assigned committees and in their own committee. They are already hard at work on their plenary which they will present in the Fall of 2006. GAP fellowship committee members Alison Heru, Nyopati Rao, Robert Mitchell, Jane Rosenthal, and Russell Gardner helped to welcome the new fellows at dinner on Thursday night.

OPERATING COMMITTEE REPORTS

ADDICTIONS

Present: Nace, Suchinsky, Frances, Levin, Westermeyer, Lewis, Tamerin
Fellow: Bryan Tolliver
Guest: John Fromson

The committee has completed a manuscript that has been approved by the Publications Board, “Social Sanctioned Use of Coercion in Addiction Treatment”.

The committee is completing the first draft of a report “Clinical Use of Coercion in Substance Abuse Treatment” to be completed in six months. The target audience will be mental health providers and will be submitted to various journals, including “Psychiatric Services” to be considered.

The committee will be working on selecting a new topic before the next meeting and fine tune the manuscript for submission for publication.

The committee requests suggestions for future topics of joint interest.
AGING
Present: Blank, Cohen, Kennedy, Sakauye, Liptzin
Fellow: Kelli Harding

The committee is working on a web based product. The project is on geriatric curricula material with an anticipated completion date of 2006 and the target audience being residency training directors and residents. The committee made significant progress on curriculum project and project to update GAP monograph on geriatric curriculum. The committee will approach geriatric leaders to submit lectures and approach AADPRT about survey. At the next meeting, the committee will review materials submitted on lectures and the training directors’ survey.

CHILD
Child (submitted by T. Shapiro)
Present: J. McDermott, J. Schowalter, P. Tanguay, T. Shapiro, M. Kruesi (P. Jensen Thursday Eve)

1) Ginsburg Fellow: Guido Frank M.D. introduced to group. At UCSD working on Bulimia and imaging in relation to biology of taste.
2) Discussed the absenteeism with respect to the difficult work loads and impositions of Academia and research. Also suggested that the Chair be associated with the project we choose.
3) Strong call for try at 100% attendance at next meeting to begin brainstorming new topic. Tentative probes from Zeanah in absentia regarding changing sociology of dating in teens. M. Kruesi ventured into studying predatory and affective aggression. These were at this juncture, very tentative.
4) Paula Riggs missed second meeting as guest – dropped from invite list.
5) P. Jensen provided new titles suggested by volume editor we chose:
   New Approaches to Childhood Psychiatric Diagnosis: Integrating Neurobiological, Developmental, and Evolutionary Perspectives.
6) Most recent draft on Temperament reviewed. Some suggestions emerged:
   a) Charts perhaps
   b) Realign preliminary points of entry to match discussion.
   c) Developmental considerations to be elaborated regarding senseless expectation of static traits vs. reorganization. This would be paralleled to circuitry and network models in CNS
   d) Rothbards work reemphasized in re: relation to Cognitive and Neuroscience homologues – effortful control discussed as somewhat anomalous in its parity as a primary trait.
   e) Gender dimorphism in behavior a taboo area for temperament in relation to male/female personality expectations.
   f) Some overlap between criminality and the parasympathetic tone variables in the callous type child.
7) Ted will incorporate these suggestions into text and redistribute next draft very soon. Everyone will edit/add/cut and suggest/write paragraphs etc. so that we can get a new draft to Editorial Board & Journal and free ourselves for new topic.
8) Contact with David Adler – Editorial Board. He will review and suggest in 30 days and free us to submit to JAACAP or AJP.
9) GAP Website up and running. P. Tanguay will adapt our subsection for early use by members in information and text editing possibilities.
COLLEGE STUDENT

HUMAN SEXUALITY
Present:  Friedman, Downey
Fellow:  Sidney Edsall
Guests:  Elizabeth Haase, David Goldenberg, Stuart Adelson, Arthur Schore, Susan Fisher, Ralph Wharton

The committee is working on several articles and possibly one book. The subject is vicissitudes of sexuality in long-term partnerships. The topic has been chosen and scholarly research is underway.

The specific tasks were assigned to work groups within the larger Human Sexuality Committee. The decision was made to review literature in a number of areas – the neurobiology of sexual response, the effect of hormones on social behavior in animals and humans, masturbation and masturbation fantasies throughout the life cycle, sexual fantasies through the life cycle. One member of our group – an experienced senior psychoanalyst will review the psychoanalytic experience with sexuality in relationships. She will interview several psychoanalytic colleagues and other scholars. The goal of these interviews is to provide the basis for the creation of a systematic semi-structural, interview concerning the preservation/extinction of sexuality in long term relationships.

The focus of the next meeting will be to review material written between meetings.

PSYCHOPHARMACOLOGY
Present: Baron, Gross, Slaby, Goin
Fellow: Bernard Fischer
Guest: Nadeem Bhanji

The committee is working to finish an ongoing project for a fast track article on direct to consumer marketing. The first draft is in final form with completion scheduled for November 2005 targeted to psychiatrists. The manuscript will be submitted to Primary Psychiatry or Psychiatric Services.

RESEARCH
Present: Gardner, Kerbeshian, Beahrs, Wamboldt, Sutton
Fellow: Dan Mayman

The committee is working on an intermediate length manuscript on social brain. The current focus of psychiatry tends to be a “relationshipless” practice. Psychiatry would benefit from a basic science using the social brain, i.e., those areas of the brain having social functions, as our clinical concerns. Human beings are social beings and the social or relationship function is ultimately the hallmark of a healthy lifestyle. The anticipated date for completion is July 2005 as the final draft is near completion now. The committee will submit this article to Annals of Psychiatry. During the meeting, the committee will wrap up work on the social brain. Assign work on two short monographs (social brain) to be submitted to AJP and pediatric journals.

Between meetings, the committee will edit DSM materials to reflect focus of diagnosis and therapy on social brain concepts. The committee will finish the outline of DSM material and determine whether or not to start another new project.

The committee is working in a fast track article on the pitfalls and promise of the use of evidence based medicine in psychiatry as illustrated by the SSRI’s – child problem. The first draft is in preparation with a one year date for completion targeted to mental health providers to be submitted to Psychiatric Services. The plans between the meetings is to revise and complete the manuscript.
